GHI Board Okays Sublease Option For 3 Homes for Sale; Addition

by Mary Moien

It was standing room only at the September 24 meeting of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. It soon became apparent that this was due to the inclusion on the agenda of several sublease requests and one addition request. Other agenda topics included replacement financing for the larger homes, the first presentation of the 1993 budget, and a proposed needs survey. Release of GHI salary figures was a topic added to the agenda.

Member Requests

A member in 1 Court Gardenway requested permission to erect a two-story garden-side addition. The roof line would be higher than the existing roof line, contrary to GHI requirements. Although two such exceptions to the roof line policy exist (including one from prior to the passage of the policy), the board voted against allowing this exception. A member of the Architecture and Environment Committee met with the GHI member during the meeting and returned with a proposal for the addition that would meet guidelines. Later in the meeting, the board approved this new proposal.

Three members then came forward requesting permission to lease their homes for 12 months—the maximum that GHI currently allows. Two of the homes have been on the market for more than six months, which is the minimum period of time that they must be actively on the market for GHI to allow them to be rented. The third home involved an unusual situation where the unit was sold but GHI did not approve the applicants. All three requests were approved. Director Wayne Williams expressed concern that GHI is allowing people to rent their homes just because they want to move. Board President Ray McCawley indicated that the GHI criteria for trying to sell the homes had been met.

Larger Homes Refinancing

Staff has been seeking to prepay a 1986 loan at National Cooperative Bank for rehabilitation of the 29 larger homes. Citizens Bank of Maryland has agreed to a loan at a very competitive rate that would be secured not by real estate but by nine certificates of deposit that would be redeemable successively at the end of each of the following nine years. The board voted to accept the proposal and execute the loan.

1993 Budget

Ron Colton, general manager, presented the first reading of the 1993 budget. He also mentioned possible projects that GHI could undertake next year if funds are available. These include bringing rest rooms in the administration building up to standards with the Americans with Disabilities Act, cleaning vinyl siding on homes, expanding the pace of the frame porch and roof replacement, building L-shaped enclosures around the electric meters on the frame home end units. The projects that the board members indicate the most interest in will be fleshed out and presented in detail at another meeting.

Not all of the budget detail was available at this meeting, but Colton emphasized selected areas. Good news was that several years of favorable loss ratios for the corporation have resulted in decreases in the amount budgeted for insurance. Bad news was that increases in the selling prices of homes, combined with a change in tax structure, indicate that real estate taxes will be up substantially next year. The increase would average $10 per unit per month. Board member Keith Jahoda indicated that by knowing the size of the increase, we might choose to cut back in some other area of the budget. Colton indicated that an appeal of the tax increase has been filed but he is not hopeful of a large decrease.

Needs Survey

GHI is planning to conduct a survey of individual and community-wide needs. The board reviewed a second draft of the proposed questionnaire. Additional comments were provided to Jill Hudson, management analyst with GHI.

Salary Issue

At midnight, the board began discussion of access to employee salaries that has been discussed at recent meetings. Board Director Carole Levin is seeking access to individual salary information to undertake her board duties as specified in the bylaws, "Monitor the finances of the corporation and operating results of its business." Board Director Alan Freas stated that the board, as a whole, has rights and responsibilities that are not necessarily passed down to individual directors. Director Margaret Hogsensen replied that she takes her role as board member very seriously and feels that it is up to the General Manager to run the operations.

President Ray McCawley later explained to the News Review that GHI board policy has maintained that the salary or wage information of a specific employee is part of that person's personnel record and that Board members do not have access to personnel records.

A member in the audience demanded to see the written personnel policy and wage tables. The board indicated there was such a policy but did not stop the meeting to make it available to him. Former board member Nat Shinderman referred to all the work that has gone into producing a personnel policy and into setting wage scales, comparing local wages, etc. over the years. Director Donald Comis indicated that the personnel policy is in the GHI board of directors materials, but there appeared to be no wage scales included. The board turned down the request by Levin for access to salary records, with most newer board members voting for the access and most veteran members voting against access.

Levin then proposed a motion that the president obtain a written legal opinion from an independent attorney regarding a director's right to data. Discussion continued past 1 a.m., at which point this reporter had to leave. The motion, however, did not pass.

GSC Schedules Annual Meeting

The next annual meeting of the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative (GCC) is scheduled for Saturday, October 31, in the Meeting Room of the Greenbelt Library at 10:15 a.m. The agenda includes updates for both the supermarket and the service station as well as the election of two directors. Both incumbents—Tom Lammons and Joe Timer—are seeking re-election. Any other member interested in serving as a director should contact Mike Burchick (474-6587) or Paul Rall (441-1153) by October 15.

Another item on the agenda is a progress report on the senior housing effort and a related loan (up to $50,000) that the housing committee will request of GCC. The last annual meeting was recessed when the membership was not ready to vote on this issue because of insufficient information.

There will be light refreshments and door prizes.

Public Hearing Oct. 15 On House Delegate Vacancy

by Elaine Skolnik

Contenders for Charles "Buzz" Ryan's seat in the House of Delegates will make presentations at a public hearing on Thursday, October 15, at 7 p.m. at the Glenn Dale Golf Club on Prospect Hill Road. Candidates will appear before the 23rd Legislative District's elected officials—State Senator Leo Green, Delegates Joan Pitkin and Mary Conroy—and three Prince Georges County Democratic Central Committee members who represent the District—Thomas X. White, Virginia Burnett and Don Beach.

The panel will send its recommendation for the delegate seat to the members of the Central Committee which, in turn, will make a recommendation to Governor William Donald Schaefer. The appointee will serve until the general elections in 1994.

The Democratic Central Committee public hearing will be held at the Greenbelt Marriott on Tuesday, October 20 at 7:30 p.m. (not at the VFW facility as announced in last week's issue).

Greenbelters contending for Ryan's seat are: City Council members Antoinette "Toni" Bram and Edward Putens, Roberta "Bobbi" McCarthy and Adrian Gardner.

White, who was considering running, said he decided not to be a candidate after considering the various consequences to his family and his career responsibilities. White said he preferred to remain in Greenbelt to represent the city's residents.

The vacancy in the House delegation results from the recently announced resignation of Delegate Charles J. Ryan, who accepted a position as vice-president for governmental affairs for the University of Maryland Medical System. Ryan's resignation was effective September 30. Under state law, the Central Committee must recommend a name to the governor within 30 days or else he has sole discretion over who is appointed.

All interested citizens are invited to attend both meetings. For the October 15 meeting, those interested in being considered for the appointment should forward their resumes to Senator Green at 212 James Senate Building, Annapolis, Md. 21401 and call Phil Sheckells at 262-4420. Those interested in speaking on behalf of anyone seeking appointment should also call.

Social Security Branch Now Located in Greenbelt

The Greenbelt branch of the Social Security Administration "now services all of the northern (Prince Georges) County that Wheaton used to handle," said Helene DiGravio, branch manager.

Located in Suite 510 of Commerce Building No. 1, 7701 Greenbelt Road, the agency moved from Landover Mall to Greenbelt in November 1990.

The Greenbelt branch offers a full range of social security services to residents living in the Greenbelt/New Carrollton/Lanham/College Park areas as well as those residing in the Bowie / Laurel / Adelphi / Hyattsville/Glenarden areas.

Twenty employees are on staff, some part-time. Services include providing and processing requests for social security applications, supplemental security income benefits, replacement of social security cards, etc.

"We strive to give recipients the correct amount of money at the right time and to be helpful and courteous in serving the public," said DiGravio. The office is open Monday to Friday (closed on federal holidays) from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For information call 1-800-772-1213 or 344-0550.

Letters to the Editor

Be Aware When You Drive

Saturday night while traveling east on Greenbelt Road, a dark blue car with New Jersey tags pulled out of the Shell Service Station near Kenilworth Avenue across our lane and attempted to stop our car. A man jumped out of the passenger side and started toward our car. When my friend tried to pass on the left side, the car moved to block us again. In the meantime, the man on foot was still approaching our car. We were fortunate that no traffic was coming in the right lane, making it possible to swing around the other car and then run a very yellow light at Kenilworth Avenue. The light was red before we cleared the intersection but we wouldn't have stopped for anything.

We had done nothing to provoke the action taken by the other driver; we were two women on our way home about 7:30 p.m. Whether this was merely an attempt to "scare" us or possibly something more ominous, we will never know. We were scared! We felt very fortunate that we did arrive home safely.

After what happened to us I just want to say to be aware of what is going on around you so that you can react quickly. You never know what can happen.

Access Needed

I attended the September 24 GHI Board meeting and am very concerned about what I saw. Director Levin made a motion asking that the president request the manager to make available to her the salaries of GHI employees. Directors Williams, Hogensen, Freas, Dietch, and Hess voted against the motion, thereby denying her access to information needed for her to fulfill her responsibilities as described by the bylaws of the corporation.

As a director she is required to manage the property, business and affairs of the corporation. Obviously Director Levin cannot fulfill her responsibility to the membership while other directors are deliberately denying her access to information necessary for her to do so. Most members are aware of the boards reluctance to divulge individual salaries to the membership.

What has occurred at this past board meeting is completely different and the implications are much more serious. Not only has access to this information been denied to membership but now to one of their elected representatives. The information needed to perform the duties of a director is not restricted to the board members that opposed Director Levin's motion.

No individual director or arbitrary group of directors constitutes the board. The board is composed of nine directors elected by the membership and all nine directors must have access to the information needed to fulfill their obligations and responsibilities as called out in the bylaws.

Thanks

I want to thank Tom Renahan and his committee for selecting me as the "Outstanding Greenbelt Citizen for 1992." It is with heartfelt gratitude and pride that I accept this award. I am honored to be listed with the 20 former outstanding citizens who were an inspiration to me. Finally, Greenbelt is Great because all Greenbelters are outstanding citizens. We are a family.

Idle Rumor?

I have just recently heard of the probable closing of your movie theater. I sincerely hope that this could be an idle rumor.

I visit my daughter in Greenbelt for three or four months every year and I always look forward to attending your theater weekly while I am there.

I thoroughly enjoy your lovely city and plan to return in November.

Now It's Official

So much has happened since I last wrote. We moved into the University Inn on September 13, and Charlie had to have me at the clinic at 9 a.m. Monday morning for four special tests. It was 4:30 p.m. before we got back to our room and was basically the same all the way through Thursday. The tests themselves were something; at times I thought they were surely thought up by demented doctors. We did find time Wednesday and Thursday to look for furnished apartments. We chose a nice quiet furnished one bedroom apartment on the first floor about 20 minutes from the hospital.

On Friday I was able to go home with Charlie for the last time until the operation is successful, to pack linens and dishes for the new apartment.

The weekend at home was wonderful. I felt as though my battery had been recharged and the birds seemed to sense I needed rejuvenation. There were at least eight hummingbirds at our feeders, at one time, the bluebirds bathed frequently at the bird bath.

We came back to our apartment here on Monday, in time for physical therapy that afternoon.

On Tuesday, we had another full day of tests and Wednesday morning another and were at the lung transplant clinic for our final interview with Dr. Zorn (head of the program), at 1 p.m. He said except for my lungs that I was in excellent health and he thought that I would be one of their success stories. We picked up the beeper, so now it

Flu Shots Urged

Seven in ten older Americans are leaving themselves open to a physical assault that could put them flat on their backs or even kill them. Influenza, a contagious lung disease which affects more than 5 million seniors annually, can lead to serious health problems and sometimes death.

Lung disease is the third leading cause of death in America, and flu is a significant reason why. With money raised from its Christmas Seal campaign, the American Lung Association of Maryland is mounting a major flu prevention campaign this year.

"We want everyone to know that the optimal period to receive a flu shot is between October 15 and November 15, before the peak of the flu season," said E. James Britt, M.D., spokesperson for the ALAM. "Despite common misconception, the vaccine is safe and does not cause a mild case of influenza."

Dr. Britt urges people to take advantage of flu shots being offered at their local health departments or by their personal physicians.

"No one is naturally immune to the flu," Dr. Britt said. "You could be walking around and passing it on to your friends and family and not even know you have it. The biggest problem is that you are most contagious even before any symptoms arise."

When they finally do appear, symptoms include fever, chills, weakness, loss of appetite, body aches, sneezing, and coughing. The disease, which starts in the respiratory system, caused 106.8 million cases in 1990, resulting in 216.9 million sick bed days. Seniors accounted for 5.7 million cases of the flu in 1990.

Besides senior citizens, others at high risk from the flu are those with chronic heart or lung disease, including children with asthma. Health care providers and employees of hospitals, chronic-care settings, and out-patient facilities who have contact with patients are also at high risk for getting and transmitting the flu.

Those with an allergy to eggs should not take a flu shot since the vaccine is made of inactivated influenza virus derived from eggs. Others with acute feverish illnesses should not be vaccinated until their symptoms have subsided.

For a free brochure about influenza, or for more information, call the American Lung Association of Maryland 1-800-492-7527 toll-free in Maryland.

St. John's Holds Open House Oct. 17

Historic St. John's Episcopal Church in Beltsville, will celebrate the completion of its renovation with an Open House on Saturday, October 17 from 1-3 p.m. The first church on the site, was built in 1857.

The present structure was built in 1877 and has been designated as an Historic Building in Prince Georges County.

The cemetery behind the church exhibits the names of many early Beltsville settlers including a Brigadier General of the American Revolution as well as veterans of the Civil War and subsequent wars. In 1863 Federal troops used the churchyard as an artillery site.

In 1991 St. John's began renovation. The church steeple was repaired, the parish hall was expanded and upgraded. There are new Sunday School rooms, offices, kitchen and great hall.

The Rev. John G. Bals, who has been Rector of St. John's since 1977, and the Parish members invite everyone to come and see the beautiful blending of the new and the old at St. John's. Refreshments will be served.

Arrests Made in Drug Raid

The Maryland State Police College Park Metropolitan Area Task Force (CPMATF) arrested two Greenbelt residents following the execution of court-ordered search and seizure warrants in the City of Greenbelt. The warrants were obtained following a nine-month investigation which identified 15 people who are involved in a major LSD distribution ring in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

During the early morning hours of September 22, Lennon Alexander Peake, 20, was arrested at 6118 Breezewood Court, Apartment 103, following the seizure from that address of a pound of marijuana, 3,000 hits of LSD, a quarter pound of hashish and various items of drug paraphernalia. Twenty-four hours later, Jonathan David Goldstein, 39, was arrested at 56-C Crescent Road. Several hundred doses of LSD, a half-pound of psilocybin (hallucinogenic mushrooms), 17 marijuana plants, precursor chemicals to make LSD, and 672 dollars in U.S. currency were seized from his residence. Five additional search and seizure warrants, which had been issued pursuant to this same investigation, were executed in suburban Maryland during the same 48-hour period.

LSD (lysergic acid diethylamide) is the most potent hallucinogen available and still has a market on high school and college campuses. It is sold in tablets, thin squares of gelatin ("window panes") or paper squares. Psilocybin is less potent than LSD, but has the same ability to create serious psychoactive disturbances in the user.

Peake remains incarcerated in lieu of a $10,000 bond and will return to court for a preliminary hearing on October 21. Goldstein was released under the supervision of the county pre-trial release program on September 28. His preliminary hearing is scheduled for October 23.

The CPMATF includes members of the Maryland State Police Drug Enforcement Division, the Office of the State's Attorney for Prince Georges County, the University of Maryland Police Department, the Greenbelt Police Department and the Laurel Police Department. CPMATF was assisted with these warrants by other divisions of the Maryland State Police and by the Maryland National Guard.

The investigation continues as outstanding arrest warrants remain unserved.

For further information call: Valerie Siegel, Assistant State's Attorney, (301) 952-3146.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn, 474-5285

Beverly and Brent Moulton are parents of a daughter, Caitlin Marie Moulton. She was born September 2 at Greater Laurel-Beltsville Hospital weighing 8 lbs., 8 oz. The Moultons live on Mandan Road in Greenwood Village.

It's a boy for Tom and Margie Downs of Bowie. Joseph Thomas Downs was born September 18 at Holy Cross Hospital, weighing 8 lb. 15 oz. Proud grandparents are Jack and Dee Downs of Crescent Road.

A warm welcome to Silvia Caradaska. Silvia is an exchange student from Czechoslovakia, who is staying with Linda Curtis of Mandan Road for a year.

She attends ERHS as a junior and is anxious to meet other teenagers.

Two Greenbelters are candidates for advanced degrees from the University of Michigan. They are Mei-Li Chen of Edmonston Road, who expects to earn a Doctor of Philosophy, and Raadhakrishnan Poovendran of Parkway, who will earn a Master of Science in engineering.

Over the Labor Day weekend Michael Burchick and a group of singers sang "Welcome to Greenbelt," which was written by Mike to the tune of "Love Letters in the Sand." The singers included Jean Cook, Irene Pavlish, Mafalda Fusco, Louise Swiderski, Philip Brandis, "Paddy" Bailey, Bernie Kozak and Ray and Rose Haber.

Hawk Talk

The Wild Bird Center of Glenn Dale is proud to present falconer Michael Dupuy and his Red-tailed Hawk, Cinnamon, in a special free program from 12-2 p.m. on Saturday, October 10. Mike's presentation, Hawk Talk, covers a range of subjects, including raptor migration, how to identify different raptors, how to get to local "hot spots" for viewing the migration first hand, and how raptors fit into the ecosystem. This is an opportunity to photograph and learn about these magnificent birds. The Wild Bird Center is at 10831 Lanham-Severn Road, Glenn Dale.

Atrium's Early Bird Dinner -- Plentiful Food al Fresco

by James Giese

Excellent ambiance and good food all at the right price is the capsule description of the Early Bird Dinner Specials at the Atrium Restaurant in the Greenbelt Marriott. On a number of occasions News Review staff members, who get together for dinner on Tuesday evenings prior to editing the copy for the paper, have dined at the restaurant. The only adverse happening we have to report is that the prices for most of these dinner specials were increased recently. Even so, we know of no other place in town where you can have a four course dinner at modest cost in as elegant an atmosphere.

Early bird dinners begin with a go at the soup and salad bar—all you can eat. Soups change from day to day and have been quite tasty. We have been particularly delighted with a cream of yellow corn chowder that we have had on more than one occasion. The salad bar is not nearly as elaborate as those of some other area restaurants, but provides a select variety of nice fresh fixings for a tossed salad plus a variety of pasta and meat salads. You can usually rely on there being a chicken salad and a tuna salad on the buffet table. On one occasion we enjoyed a delicious shrimp salad that we hope will someday be repeated. Also, there is always a plate or more of sliced fruit. One can easily make a meal of the soup and salad bar and, if you're not careful, fail to leave room for the main course.

There is a choice of six main courses, two beef, two chicken, one fish and meat loaf. The fish selection changes daily and has been prepared in a variety of ways to the enjoyment of the staffers who have made that their selection. Elaine always selects the Chicken Marsala, a chicken breast cooked in a wine sauce, but always orders the sauce on the side, a request that is no problem for the chef. The other chicken dish is Stir Fried Chicken, which consists of a Chinese style dish of chicken pieces and vegetables cooked together. No one has yet tried the Prime Rib of Beef selection, but we would expect it to be the equal of other selections. The London

Broil is cooked to your desired degree of doneness and is topped with a tasty brown sauce. As is often the case with this cut of beef, the meat has good flavor but is a little on the tough side. The meat loaf is nicely seasoned and has little non-meat filler in it. I could be mistaken, but its gravy topping seemed to me to be the same as that used for the London Broil. There is nothing wrong with that, if it is indeed the case.

For starch, you have a choice of baked, mashed or French fried potatoes and rice. Mixed vegetables, very lightly cooked, such as cauliflower, broccoli and carrots also come with the meal. For me, I prefer my vegetables cooked to a greater degree of tenderness and I overheard one patron specifically requesting that the vegetables be longer cooked. However, Virginia finds the vegetables to be excellently prepared. To each, his or her own.

Although by the time you have finished with your main course, you are sated, I and my companions have risen to the challenge, and have helped ourselves to the dessert bar, which is also included in the price of the dinner. There you will find three different kinds of multi-layered cakes or tortes loaded with scrumptious frostings and fillings and calories or possibly a pie or some other delightful concoction. You may also have a dish of soft frozen yogurt, for which there is usually a fruit and some other kind of topping. Vic has become an expert in making colorful combinations of desserts.

The Atrium is Greenbelt's most elegant restaurant. The skylights and potted plants give daytime dining the feel of eating al fresco, but in air conditioned comfort. The multi-colored table linens, quality china, ornate wooden chairs with tapestry seats, plush carpeting and pastel colored walls and floral pictures make the dining room atmosphere truly first class.

Early Bird Dinner Specials range in price from $7.95 to $9.95. Including beverages, tips and taxes we averaged $12 a person on our last visit. The Atrium is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner and offers not only a full menu but alternative selections from Pizza Hut as well. It is not unusual to find Prince Georges notables having power lunches there on weekdays.
